* The Photoshop Edit/Red Eye Removal System (available in Auto and Manual modes) is found in Bridge and can also be applied to images in the Camera RAW editor. * Use PEEK function of the Camera RAW editor, which makes the layers on a single image of a still and video capture look like a single layer containing both images. * Use the FREEVERT FILM editor to convert videos to GIF images; videos can be converted as previously mentioned as well. * The Photoshop VIBE editor can convert images from one file format to another. * Blend layers in the Layers palette and the Blend tool to combine two images to create a multi-image file. Photoshop Setting up an image for the full power of Photoshop is normally done in the RAW editor for seamless editing of the various RAW files, or in the Photoshop editor, which the JPEG file is placed in. The initial image that you create can be sent directly to the RAW editor to have the RAW converted, or it can be sent to Photoshop for processing of the JPEG version. The RAW file is saved in a new file from the import dialog. The following sections walk through each step of how to create an image in Photoshop. The process is very similar in other Adobe products, and the steps will be discussed in a similar way with subsequent chapters. However, it may be necessary to refer to the earlier chapters, so you may end up starting from scratch on some sections.

militants ordered dozens of prisoners to be killed and crucified in the most graphic public execution yet of at least nine Sunni Muslims in the latest of a string of atrocities against the religious minority. The killings Thursday in the city of Mahmudiyah, east of the Iraqi capital Baghdad, brought the number of confirmed crucified people so far this year in Iraq to at least 30, the U.N.'s human rights office said. The victims were accused of refusing to pledge allegiance to the Sunni extremist group and were taken from an inmates' camp — which also houses thousands of Shi'ite Muslim prisoners accused of being associated with the country's military — to a nearby bridge, which was reportedly one of the group's crucifying sites. "The claim that they are... crucifying them is 100 percent true," said Najat El-Babbawi, an Iraqi journalist and blogger, adding that the accused had just been taken to the site. "I am not sure of the exact number, but my information came from very reliable sources." The bodies of at least five men, handcuffed and blindfolded, were placed on wooden crosses to hang for public viewing in the town of Mahmudiyah, the town's police chief, Lt. Col. Ahmed al-Tawwab told NBC News. these reported executions in Mahmudiyah and call on all parties involved in the conflict to end all acts of executions and mistreatment of prisoners in their custody," Hussein said in a statement.
